How to take a good-quality photograph:

Find a good position and ensure good lighting.

Take photo from approximately 15-45cm away.

Take multiple photos from different angles, checking different flash and zoom options and choose the best image.

The image sent should be only the affected area.

Do not include any other areas with identifying information (i.e. not the face or identifiable tattoos or clothing).

Do not include any other individuals or objects in the image that might identify another person.

The image must be appropriate and relevant to the complaint discussed in the consultation.

Check the images and make sure they are in focus.

Please delete the image from your phone once sent.

Wash hands and clean the phone if necessary.
